Off to Search for Black Ice

It is no longer a secret that I will be leaving the Chamber of Commerce and Industry WA (CCI) in February 2010 to skate the world.

I recently did some inline skating through the mountains of Switzerland following the Rhine River and Lake Constance. It was on this trip that I concluded two things. One part adrenaline and one part endorphin is still a great drink and at 55 my ankles had about three years distance skating left in them.

We are already working to bring onboard my replacement who will be smarter, better looking and as Debra my partner of 30 years would say, has less likelihood of becoming road kill. The advert for Manager ProjectConnect was posted on Seek this week. This is a fantastic position managing a growth product working for a great employer.

I am not retiring, just taking a four to six month sabbatical to skate around the world to live the dream.

Best Regards
David Kobelke, Manger ProjectConnect

The Oakajee deepwater port and rail project will deliver an integrated open access, bulk commodity supply chain to transport iron ore from Western Australia's mid-west region to customers in the Asia Pacific region.

Comprising a deepwater port 25km north of Geraldton, linked to regional mines by approximately 550km of heavy haulage rail, the development will cater for the world's largest ore carriers and service the growing number of resource projects in the region.

The evening will feature a short presentation from Oakajee Port and Rail Operations Director, Jim Netterfield, who will provide guests with an update on the status of this important development and an insight into the challenges of managing a multi-million dollar project.

Guests will also have extensive opportunities to network with fellow industry representatives from the resource and energy sector in WA while enjoying a selection of gourmet canapes accompanied by premium Western Australian wines and beers.
